NO WHITE OWL; AN EARLY SPRING

Adams County People who Follow Weather Superstitions Say that Failure of White Owl to Appear Means Winter is nearly Over.

An early spring is prophesied by a large number of weatherwise Adams County residents who have been heard the past few days discussing the probability of a short winter. Various reasons are given for their belief one of which is the fact that no white owl has appeared this winter.

One well known resident says: "When white owls are seen it is almost a sure sign of a long winter. This is known as the snowy owl and is expected to bring snow with its appearance. This year no one has seen the bird either here or in any neighboring county to my knowledge and I am one of those who expect winter to remain with us but a very short time."

The old superstition that there will be as many snows as the date on which the first one falls is not holding this year. November 29 was the date of the first snow this winter and there is no indication that the total number will reach that figure before the final opening of spring.

With February 2 less than a week off, interest in Groundhog day, which falls upon this date, is increasing. According to the popular belief, sunshine next Thursday would mean this part of the country to six weeks more winter, while a cloudy day would tempt him out a sign of winter's end. Many predictions of an early spring are heard, based upon the fact that the present winter began unusually early and was unusually severe.

FIND THAT DOG HAD THE RABIES

Mont Alto Canine which Bit Mr. Staley and Some Animals is Found to have been Suffering from Hydrophobia.

Jacob Staley, Mont Alto, writes from Lancaster that his large brindle bull dog, which bit him Saturday, had rabies.

Mr. Staley is at the laboratory of H. M. Alexander and Co., Marietta, Lancaster county, taking the Pasteur treatment. He took the head of the dog along with him. The brain was examined and a clear type found.

Mr. Staley's wounds were treated by the physicians at the sanatorium within five minutes after he was bitten and it is believed that there will be no serious results.

The dog bit a great many dogs in the vicinity. The State Live Stock Board was notified and Dr. D. Ryder, the representative was instructed to go to the Sanatorium and place under quarantine all dogs in the community. He went there to carry out the orders.

A number of the bitten animals have been penned up by their owners since Saturday. The quarantine is to guard against danger from any dog that may have been bitten unknown to the owner.

THE FLAMING ARROW

That beautiful scenic production of the west, as it really was in the early days in the vicinity of Fort Reno when the Indians were having most frequent uprisings and the United States soldiers were ever on the alert, "The Flaming Arrow" will be presented at Walter Theatre on Monday, February 6. Although at first thought one would expect a play full of blood and thunder, it is not so, being devoid of this, red coat evictions and other stereotyped features. The plot is consistent and naturally developed comedy and pathos are intermingled in a pleasing manner, and each act has a surprising and effective climax. The electrical and scenic effects are marvelous, in fact noncomparable.

REWARD FOR MISSING GIRL

Disappeared Dec. 12 and Father Sure She is Not Dead.

New York, Jan. 27.—With the offer of a large reward as the incentive, seekers of lost persons throughout the world are hunting for Miss Dorothy H. C. Arnold.

No trace of the girl has been found since two hours after she left her father's home in East Seventy-ninth street, bound on a shopping expedition, on Dec. 12. During the intervening weeks the quest has been maintained.

"There is no clue left," Francis P. Garvan, counsel for Francis R. Arnold, the young woman's wealthy father, declared. "We have run every clue to earth and find ourselves confronted by a stone wall. We believe that she lives."

"The facts are these: A young woman, twenty-five years old, of striking appearance, leaves her home to buy an evening gown. There was no known reason for her to run away, and she made no preparations to do so. She took with her no clothing except what she was wearing and not more than $30 in money. Two hours later she was seen at a book store. She had no love affair, nor had there been made that she would be kidnapped. She is a normal, rational woman of unusual intelligence and quick wit."

Miss Arnold, who is a Bryn Mawr graduate, is a niece of Mrs. Rufus W. Peckham, of Washington, widow of the late Supreme Court Justice Peckham.

1800 CHILDREN IN PANIC

False Alarm of Fire in Newark School Followed by Rush For Exits.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 27.—A panic caused by a false alarm of fire spread among the 1800 children attending the Seventh avenue public school in this city.

In a mad rush for the streets several of the school children were knocked down and were slightly injured.

There was some basis for the children's fright, although the immediate danger was not from fire. Leaking gas poured up the airshaft from the cellar and overcame two children sitting near the aperture in the shaft.

TRIES TO KILL HIS CHILD

Physician, Insane, Attempts to Throw Baby Beneath Car's Wheels.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 27.—W. J. Garrison, of Wyoming, near here, while demented, tried to murder his one-year-old child by throwing it under the wheels of a street car.

The child struck the side of the car, however, and escaped with only severe bruises. Dr. Garrison has been arrested.

TELLS OF OFFER TO AID CANAL DEAL

Says Effort Was Made to Bribe Journal of Commerce.

ALL PROPOSITIONS DECLINED

Business Manager Also Declares $100,000 Was Offered to Support Ship Subsidy Bill.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Still another alleged attempt to buy the influence of the New York Journal of Commerce, in addition to four propositions testified to Wednesday, was disclosed to the house ship subsidy investigating committee by Alfred Warren Dodswoth, business manager of that paper. All the propositions were declined.

The latest disclosure was, according to Mr. Dodswoth, an offer of $36,000 to support editorially the plan for the sale of the De Lesseps Panama canal property to the United States.

This made a total of $176,000 offered to the paper for this and the subsidy purposes, according to Dodswoth, in definite amounts of three offers, besides an unnamed amount from the Spanish government and a blank check which John Roach, the ship builder, is alleged to have told the elder Dodswoth that he could fill out with any figure he chose.

"At the time that De Lesseps visited this country and was entertained by the New York Chamber of Commerce," said Mr. Dodswoth, "a representative of the Panama Canal company, as it was then a French company, made our paper a proposition, through my father, for editorial support and said that there was $36,000 of a fund that was left that we might just as well have as not, that we should support the proposition to saddle that property on this government."

Charles R. Williams, of the Indianapolis News, identified a number of editorials in his paper concerning ship subsidy. He said he knew there was an active propaganda for merchant marine legislation, but that he knew nothing as to any corrupting influence.

G. Waldo Smith, a member of the New York Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange, said he had known of strong rumors as to influence of foreign shipping in commercial bodies, but he had no definite information as to lobbying.

Pressed as to the $100,000 offer which he said had been made six years ago for the publication in the Journal of Commerce of an article in favor of ship subsidy, Mr. Dodswoth denied that his purpose in calling his brother, John W. Dodswoth, editor of the paper, into his office at that time was for consultation as to the policy of the paper. He said that there was no thought of accepting the proposition.

He said he had told the committee everything he could and that he knew of no similar attempts to buy the influence of other papers.

Mr. Dodswoth had seen newspaper statements alleging lobbies existed at Washington in behalf of both sides of the ship subsidy question. The $40,000 proposition, he said, "was an attempt to get us into the ditch on the subsidy question and use our article wherever those interests might think best."

Ever since then he has been ailing, and at one time it was thought he would die. He showed wonderful recuperative power and recovered sufficiently to return to his home. The former mayor is afflicted with liver and kidney trouble.

ASTOR'S ICE YACHT RUNS DOWN WOMAN

Accident Occurred While Going at High Speed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 27.—While speeding at a rate of sixty miles an hour over the ice of the Hudson river at Rhinebeck, the ice yacht of Vincent Astor, son of Colonel John Jacob Astor, ran down Mrs. Henry Kip, injuring her so badly that she had to be taken to the Thompson hospital for treatment.

Mr. Astor's yacht is one of the fastest on the river and he had a strong wind in his favor when he took the long run diagonally across the river to a point above Rondout. Half way across his sails shut out from view a lone pedestrian making her way over the ice.

There was a shriek and a shock that checked the light ice craft almost to a standstill, the cross beam of the craft catching the woman, throwing her down heavily and knocking the breath from her body.

Righting his sails and taking the injured woman aboard, young Mr. Astor shot back to land and in a few moments had Mrs. Kip at the hospital, his automobile being in waiting at the boathouse.

NEW TARIFF PACT WITH CANADA

Reciprocity Treaty, Indorsed by Taft, Sent to Senate.

FOOD PRODUCTS ARE CUT

United States Puts Goods Valued at $39,811,000 on Free List, Against $21,958,000 by Canada.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The administration's reciprocity agreement with Canada was submitted to congress, with a special message from the president urging its prompt enactment into law.

The agreement was presented concurrently to the Dominion parliament in Ottawa and within a few days bills will be introduced in the legislative body of each government designed to make the terms of the agreement. The concurrent legislation obviates the necessity of any negotiations on the subject between the two governments.

Generally speaking, the agreement opens the markets of the United States to Canada's leading agricultural products, notably wheat and other grain and also to her dairy products, fish, eggs and poultry, sheep, cattle and other live animals. Her rough lumber also is admitted duty free to the United States, as is her print paper and wood pulp and several other raw materials.

In return for these concessions Canada takes down the bars altogether on cottonseed oil and American fruits and some other products and grants reduced duties on agricultural implements and other manufactured articles.

On the basis of results expressed in dollars and cents, Canada seems to have a little better of the argument in the agreement, although President Taft points out in his message that the benefits to be derived by the United States cannot be computed in this way at the present. The total value of articles now dutiable which the United States proposes to make free under the agreement is $39,811,000, or 75.4 per cent of the total dutiable importations of Canada into the United States in the fiscal year 1911. The total value of articles now dutiable which Canada proposes to make free is, on the other hand, only $16,958, 000, which is 16.5 per cent of all the dutiable imports into Canada from the United States in the same year. The total amount of duties to be remitted by the United States under the agreement is $4,850,000, as compared with $2,560,000 with Canada.

Summary of the Changes.

The state department gave out a summary of the tariff changes provided for as follows:
Reciprocal lists on leading food products, such as wheat and other grains, dairy products, fresh fruits and vegetables, fish of all kinds, eggs and poultry, cattle, sheep and other live animals.

Also certain commodities now free in one country are to be made free by the other, such as cottonseed oil by Canada and rough lumber by the United States.

Tin and terne plates, now dutiable in both countries, are made mutually free.

Barbed wire fencing, now exempted from duty by Canada, is also exempted by the United States. Some raw materials, such as mica and gypsum, which enter into numerous industries, are to be made free by the United States.

Printing paper is to become free on the removal of all restrictions on the exportation of pulp wood.

Mutually reduced rates on secondary food products, such as fresh meat, canned meats, bacon and hams, lard and lard compounds, canned vegetables, flour, cereal preparations and other foodstuffs, partly manufactured.

Mutually reduced rates on a list of

JUDGE READY TO FACE VOTE PROBE

Admits Paying Money to Danville Workers.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 27.—Judge E. R.
Kimbrough, instigator of the present grand jury investigation of alleged vote traffic in Vermilion county, the home of Speaker Cannon, frankly discussed, before going before the grand jury himself, the tale being told that he and Mayor Platt, at the latter's election, went around to the precincts in an automobile carrying money to the workers.

Judge Kimbrough freely admitted that he made such a trip, but he positively and emphatically denied that the money was to be used for illegitimate purposes.

"Why, yes," said Judge Kimbrough, when told of the tale being circulated about his automobile ride, "I went around with Mayor Platt. There is not anything wrong about that. And it is true that our automobile carried money to the precincts. But why?

"Any one who has lived in Danville long knows that candidates pay off their organization men—ward workers, etc.—on the day of election. That is what the money Mayor Platt and I carried was used for—to pay off the workers.

"Any statement to the contrary is a lie, absolutely and unequivocally a lie."

Second in importance only to the Judge's testimony will be that of Mayor Platt and Earl Chambers, owner of a garage. Judge Kimbrough was a strong supporter of Mr. Platt at the latter's election twenty-one months ago, and it is about the nature of that support Chambers is to testify.

Several other witnesses are summoned to tell what truth there is to the tales they have told of having seen, when the automobile ran into an electric light pole, a tarpaulin disarranged in the bottom of the tonneau, and beneath it gold and silver coins and paper money in small denominations scattered in profusion on the floor.

Three Die in Rescue Attempt.

Reidsville, Ga., Jan. 27.—Trying in vain to save the life of her daughter, whose clothing caught in the shafting of a cotton gin, Mrs. J. D. Wilkes sacrificed her own life and that of her baby. The little girl screamed for help as she felt herself drawn into the machinery. Her mother, who was nearby, sprang to aid her. She, too, was caught and the baby, which was in her arms, was hurled to the floor and killed. The mother and daughter died soon afterwards.

Aeroplane Rises From Water.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 27.—The aero-plane added another conquest to its long list of achievements on San Diego bay, when an aeroplane driven by Glenn Curtiss arose from the surface of the bay, flew two miles, returned to the starting place and there alighted on the water as lightly as a gull.

Carried Six in Aeroplane.

Douzy, Ardennes, France, Jan. 27.— Roger Sommer took up six passengers in a large biplane, and after circling the aerodrome at a height of 100 feet, flew to Romilly and return, establishing a new world's record for a cross-country flight with passengers and a new mark for total weight lifted.

Kills or Captures Philippine Murderers.

Manila, Philippines, Jan. 27.—General Pershing, commander of the department of Mindanao, has ended the punitive campaign in the Davao district, having killed or captured all the murderers and dispersed the lawless Manobo bands.

To Protect Santa Claus.

Kansas City, Kan., Jan. 27.—Senator Robinson has prepared a bill to be introduced in the Kansas legislature, which will provide a fine of not less than $500 for any adult who tells a child that there is no such person as Santa Claus. It is the greatest tragedy of childhood to scatter such an illusion, Senator Robinson says.

$15,000 to Employees.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—M. S.
Hershey, the Dauphin county chocolate manufacturer and owner of a model plant at Hershey, distributed over $15,000 among employees of his works who have worked at the plant for more than a year.

SCHENK JURY COULDN'T AGREE

Stood II to I For Acquittal and Were Discharged.

CASE WILL BE RETRIED

The Accused Woman Will Be Released on Bail Until the Next Term of Court.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 27.—Unable to agree on a verdict, the jury in the case of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, tried on a charge of poisoning her husband, John O. Schenk, was discharged by Judge Jordan.

The case will now be redocketed and retried at the next term of court unless a continuance is asked. Five minutes before the jury was called into the courtroom the attorneys for both the state and defense petitioned the court for the discharge of the jury.

As soon as the jury was discharged it was announced that they had stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction on almost every ballot taken.
It was not possible to learn the number of ballots taken.

When the jury was discharged Mrs.
Schenk appeared much relieved, and when she was informed that the jurors had stood eleven to one for acquittal she was delighted. Her attorneys would not permit her to talk to the reporters.

Mrs. Schenk was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000 several weeks ago, but now that the jury has disagreed her attorneys will ask the court to follow out the usual custom of reducing the amount of bail by half.
If the reduction is granted bail will be furnished and she will be released from jail soon.

SIR CHARLES DILKE DEAD

Famous Authority on International Affairs Had Been Long Ill.

London, Jan. 27.—Sir Charles Wentworth Dilke died here. The immediate cause of death was heart trouble, although he had been enfeebled since the recent election.

The strain of the campaign affected Sir Charles severely, and he went to the south of France to recuperate, returning to London last Saturday.

Sir Charles has represented the Forest of Dean division of Gloucester in parliament since 1892. He was recognized as one of the most brilliant minds in politics, particularly in foreign affairs, and but for an old divorce scandal probably would have held the highest offices in the gift of his country.

He was born in 1843, educated at Cambridge and admitted to the bar in 1865. He was under secretary of state for foreign affairs in 1880-82 and was president of the local government board in 1882-85. Subsequently he was a member of several royal commissions and wrote extensively of national and international political affairs.

BALLINGER CASE STIR HOUSE

Speaker Cannon Plunges Into Debate Over Printing Report.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Representative Hittcock, of Nebraska, sprang a sensational in the house by demanding an investigation of the "irregular proceedings," which has resulted in a delay of forty-nine days in getting the reports of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee printed and into the hands of the members of the house.

An acrimonious debate followed, in which Speaker Cannon took an active part, presenting what he termed an implied criticism of the chair.

The house voted almost unanimously in support of a resolution ordering an investigation of the committee on rules.

Name Baby After Governor Wilson.

Mont Clair, N. J., Jan. 27.—Governor Woodrow Wilson has sent a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Johnson, of 11 Oxford street, who named their son, born last Saturday, Woodrow Wilson Johnson. The latter says: "I am greatly complimented by the honor you have done me in naming your son after me and I can only express the hope that nothing will ever occur in my life which will make you regret having given him my name. I hope that I shall live to make his acquaintance."

Killed by 110 Volts.

York, Pa., Jan. 27.—Leonard Koch, thirty-five years old, engineer at the plant of the Riverside Foundry company, at Wrightsville, was electrocuted.
He was repairing electric wire while standing on wet sand. He was seen to cut the wire and then straggle. Only 110 volts passed through his body.

To Protect Santa Claus.

Kansas City, Kan., Jan. 27.—Senator Robinson has prepared a bill to be
introduced in the Kansas legislature, which will provide a fine of not less
than $500 for any adult who tells a
child that there is no such person as Santa Claus. It is the greatest tragedy
of childhood to scatter such an illusion, Senator Robinson says.

Knew the Man.

It was a bit naughty of Miss Farrar, the opera singer, to speak of the race of dukes as "not worth a damn." The incident, says the San Francisco Argonaut, recalls a story which the late Frank Moffatt used to tell. Moffatt one day chanced to fall in with Father — of Oakland, a priest widely popular for his humor and general keenness of mind as well as for his sympathies.

"What do you think, Frank," asked the father, "of —?" who had just been nominated for a public office.

"Well, father," said Moffatt, "barring your reverend presence, I think he is a blankety blank blank."

"Softly, Frank; softly, Frank," said the good father, raising his hands in protest. "I can't approve your language, but I see you know the man."

Her Destination.

A woman clerk in a government office who enjoys a well earned reputation for wit very much disconcerted a young attorney one day. She announced that she was shortly going on her vacation, and the youthful cross examiner inquired the lady's destination.

"At Fishhook," was the reply.

"Where is that?" pursued the attorney.

"At the end of the line," was the smiling rejoinder.

687 Sold the First Day Reserve Your Hudson Now

The first days' sales made to individuals by Hudson dealers—on the day when the new HUDSON "33", arrived—totaled 687 cars.

Howard E. Coffin is known for the successes he has produced wherever automobiles are used. The four famous cars he designed where the leaders of their time. At first he designed high-priced cars. Then he turned his attention to building a car that would give the same satisfactory service—that has the same grace and beauty and fine quality of materials, workmanship and finish that had been expected only of those selling at $2,000 and up.

The HUDSON "33" is his masterpiece.

Desirable cars are difficult to obtain when they are wanted.

You who wait until spring comes will surely find this condition. The most desirable cars will be sold far in advance.

If you intend buying a car, begin your investigation at once and assure yourself of delivery when you want it. There will be no change in models or price.

Even cars that ordinarily have small demands, will be in large demand in spring.

By taking your car now you can get three months' extra use without extra cost.

Simplicity the Keynote

Simplicity is evident in every detail.

The number of parts used is 900 less than in the average car.

Oiling places can be reached without inconvenience or soiling the clothing.

Moving parts are all enclosed and dust-proof. This includes the valve mechanism, which is exposed in practically all American cars.

The frame is heavier than is used on any other car of its weight.

The motor and transmission are held together as a unit giving all the advantages of both the three and four point system of suspension.

Wheels are stronger than are ordinarily used.

Springs are so designed that they are practically unbreakable, yet they are easy and flexible.

There is greater leg room in the front seat than is provided in most cars.

The steering wheel is extra large—same as on the biggest costliest cars.

Don't these facts make you want to see the Hudson "33"?

Think what it means to obtain for $1250 the masterpiece of such an engineer as Howard E. Coffin.

Think what it means to obtain a car at that price that embodies the ideas that the leading European Engineers are this year putting on their cars, anyone of which sells for from three to five times the price of the HUDSON "33."

Then think what is indicated by the 687 orders taken the first day.

I have in my store the "33" Touring Car where I will be pleased to demonstrate it to prospective buyers.

A Spy of President Lincoln

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Few persons have ever been aware of the connection President Lincoln had with spies. It is singular how those can be found to do such work, especially since an ignominious death is the penalty for being caught. The strangest feature of the spy system is that the more delicate woman should have done her share in it.

One day a girl about twenty-four years old went to Allan Pinkerton, who was at the head of the United States secret service bureau, and told him that she had lived at Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy, and was supposed to be a secessionist. She proposed to go there, intending to offer her services to the Confederate government, to return to Washington and take back information to Richmond. In other words, by pretending to be in the Confederate service she hoped to get information of their intentions or condition for the Federal government. She said her object was to make money to lift her sick mother out of poverty.

Pinkerton set several traps for her in order to test her fidelity to the Federal cause and, having satisfied himself of it, sent her to Mr. Lincoln.

This was in 1864, when the struggle was drawing to a close. The work Mr. Lincoln gave her to do was to discover what commissary stores were in Richmond and what further supplies could be obtained.

Kate Beale went to Richmond, going through the lines without much trouble. Her accent, which she had acquired in the south, was distinctly southern and a great help to her. She wormed herself into the confidence of the wife of an important officer in the Confederate commissary department and asked him if there was not some plan by which she could assist southern sympathizers in the north in running contrabands into the south. He told her there were only two ways, by blockade running and by getting a vessel to some spot of southern territory unwatched by northern troops. She proposed to start an expedition on the last named plan.

She was taken to President Davis and to the commissary general. She told them that she knew southern men in Baltimore who would run supplies through if sure they would be met by a southern force. After much discussion a point was named where supplies might be landed.

During these discussions the spy learned that if Grant succeeded in taking Petersburg, all supplies being cut off from the south, the troops and people of Richmond had almost no provisions whatever to rely upon. The surrender must follow very soon.

Having gained the information she wished for, Miss Beale made her preparations to return to Washington. The day before she intended to set out she was met on the street by a man—one of the many Washington southern sympathizers—who was carrying information to Richmond and who had seen her not long before coming out of Allan Pinkerton's office. He looked at her with a pair of steel gray eyes under bushy eyebrows and with a more than ordinary interest. She did not remember ever having seen him before, but considering her mission she felt sure she was in danger.

She pretended not to notice the man's interest in her. Walking on, but without turning to see if he followed her, she spied an empty cab. Beckoning to the driver, he pulled up at the curb, and she entered, telling him to drive her to the presidential mansion. As she was driven away she saw the man still looking at her, but pretending not to notice her. When she stopped at the president's home and alighted the man came hurrying up. She went in and asked for Mr. Davis. He was busy at the time; but, having waited awhile to see him, she went away. When she passed out of the door the man with the bushy eyebrows had disappeared. Apparently her bluff game had succeeded.

But she dare not remain in Richmond a minute longer. Not daring to go directly northward, she concluded to first go south and find the cabinman to drive her to the battlefields that had been fought on by Lee and McClellan two years before, and, arriving there, she dismissed him.

Hiring vehicles where she could, walking where she could not hire them, sometimes floating in a stolen boat on the James river, she at last reached Fortress Monroe. In possession of the Federal forces. There she found a naval transport about to leave for the north and, reaching New York, took a train for Washington.

When the name of Kate Beale was taken up to Mr. Lincoln he muttered a "thank God" and directed that she should be immediately conducted to him. When she entered the room where he was and he arose to greet her it seemed to her that his hand shook. He took both her hands in his, and his expressive eyes told her how relieved he was to see her.

"I have important news for you, Mr. Lincoln," she said, and she told him what she had learned.

It was but a month after that that Grant took Petersburg and the Confederacy collapsed.

Kate Beale was paid a large sum from the secret service fund, with which she ministered to her mother's wants. She said afterward that the work was so fascinating that had the war continued longer she would have made another trip.

In buying land anywhere it is a sensible plan to get an opinion as to the worth of it from some person who is not financially interested in the sale of it or who does not own a piece of land in the same neighborhood that he is anxious to find a buyer for. So simple a precaution as this in the matter of land buying would save many a purchaser bitter disappointment and financial loss.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE.

The People's Drug Store Offers to Pay for Samose if it does not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight, and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain in health and good flesh, will find his desire accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that The People's Drug Store is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. They make this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on these terms.

Robber Catarrh

Steals Energy and Will Power from its Victims.

Catarrh robs its victims of energy—some physicians say of will power. That may be the reason why thousands of catarrh sufferers haven't ambition enough to accept this fair and square offer by The People's Drug Store, which they make without any whys and wherefores or red tape of any kind.

The People's Drug Store says, "We guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, or money back," and that offer is open to every reader of The Gettysburg Times.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is the purest Australian Eucalyptus combined with Thymol and other germ killing antiseptics.

Pour a few drops into the small vest pocket HYOMEI inhaler and breathe it into the lungs over the inflamed membrane infested with catarrh germs.

It is pleasant to use—it kills the germs, soothes the sore membrane, and cures catarrh; if it doesn't your money back.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at The People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere. A complete outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs $1.00.
